

THE MINISTRY OF PARENTING

PROMOTING CREATIVITY IN PARENTING SUPPORT A COMMUNITY INTEREST COMPANY

'This was really beneficial for me and my family'

What can the Ministry of Parenting do for you?

We can help to raise your self-esteem, confidence, emotional resilience and mental well-being. When difficulties become apparent in the home we will help you and your family to identify the things you want to change and give you the support you need.

'I feel like a different person, I feel so much better'

Who are we?

We are a team of professionals with proven track records of excellence in parenting training; consultancy; the development of emotional well-being and community development.

We are a Community Interest Company (CIC) so we use our profits and funding for the public good. We believe we have a distinct and valuable role to play in helping create a strong, sustainable and socially inclusive economy.

What do we do?

The Ministry of Parenting (CIC) supports families and individuals through information, guidance, group programmes, workshops, home-coaching and training. We offer targeted and specialist support to parents as well as promoting high standards of safe and effective parenting practice amongst professionals.

Our aim is to deliver sustainable outcomes that improve the nation's health and reduce violence in society.
